Nutrena's looking for bashful breeders.

We can help you prevent this problem.

Poor cow condition now can mean bashful breeding after next calving season.

Poor condition also reduces the cow's ability to develop and drop a strong, healthy calf.

So the management and feeding decisions you make now are critical. We can help you with both.

We offer a unique management aid to customers — the Nutrena Live Calf Calendar, a month-by-month guide to feeding, health, selection, complete cow and calf care.

We'll work with you to build a feeding program around your feedstuffs — balanced economically to provide all the nutrition necessary for peak herd performance. Nutrena supplements include Beefcake®-20 Breeder, Beefcake®-32 and CLS® Controlled Release Liquid Supplement. Call your Nutrena dealer.

We want to earn your feed business.

as the case may be, we have also built deadly traps. Without some fresh air your dream house can become a death trap.

This is just one in a long line of seeger heaverlab notions with which the Special Interest boys and girls have lead us down dead end streets. The popular way to get us to swallow their demagogues is to coin a Buzz Word and play it to the hilt in pushing these ideas. One of the recent inventions has been Acid Rain. The folks who want us to degenerate back into the Pre-Industrial Civilization who want no nuclear power, no coal fired power or no oil fired power have been screaming to High Heaven that Acid Rain was gonna kill us all, includin' plant life, wild life, streams, lakes and this Silent Killer would turn the world into a place where even litmus paper would dissolve.

It has been known for years that a great deal of what these people call air pollutin' is a natural product of nature's recycling processes. However, they seek to terrorize us with this list as they did with the sootherin scare, the nitrite fright, the animal plant thung and other here-brained ideas that were hatched without a smidgen of intelligence to back 'em up.

The Wall Street Journal recently published a little item concernin' Acid Rain that makes this just another evidence that these Special Interest Groups have a serious problem with the machinery between their ears. Another ill thought out notion, with no basis in fact.

It seems a couple of University of New Hampshire scientists, who did not know any better, sallied forth and drilled some holes in the ice in the Antarctic & the Himalayan Mountains and some of these cores more than 350 years old were loaded up with more Acid Rain than current asploms have been revealing. The fact that huge amounts of Acid Rain fell long before the Industrial Revolution started pollutin' the atmosphere with smoke, etc., indicates again that the Special Interest Groups, just don't have their facts straight. Serious studies by the Battelle Labs and American Electric Power (who burn lots of coal) indicate that Mother Nature has been feeding with Acid Rain for a long time and before we go off to Deep End, we need more facts. No, hummy, hummy, hummy! Can our educators develop some muscles in their skulls?

Everthing, The Edittor.

P.S.: Uncle Dunk notes where at Seey. Rob Bergland and Ronald Reagan squered off, after a fashion, the other day and Reagan called the Carter Farm Record on "unprecedented disaster compounded of seven deadly sins." Bergland rebutted that the Farm Situation was never better and ended the groat. Dunk says he is plannin' a poll on this and found it interestin' that Mirin Mook, head of the American Agriculture Movement in Plabvier, Texas, who was a delegate to the Ocas Convention, has endorsed Reagan and says the past three years have been the "worst three years in the history of American Agriculture". Different notions are what make horse races and politics, so take your pick. — Thasal Brothers!

Nugent Sees Danger In Rail Bill Deregulating Roads

Austin — Texas electricity consumers will not be served by the new railroad deregulation bill that was passed by Congress last week, says Railroad Commissioner James E. (Jim) Nugent. Nugent, after analysis of the bill, said that it provides too few safeguards against skyrocketing rate increases, especially for electrical utility companies that must rely on a single rail carrier for out-of-state coal shipments.

Nugent also warned that the same act could jeopardize state jurisdiction over rail shipments within the state. The Commissioner said there are a number of desirable aspects to the new law, such as, increasing competition between railroads and putting them on sounder economic footing.

But he warned that this should not be done at the expense of the captive shipper. He said there was clearly a potential for that happening in Texas, especially in the area of out-of-state coal hauls from Colorado, Wyoming and Montana. "Except for a few cases, protection of captive shippers of bulk commodities — most notably coal — is inadequate," Nugent said after studying the effects of the new law. "More and more, coal is firing boilers in the state's electrical plants. As the cost of moving the coal increases . . . so, too, will your utility bills."

Using maps and charts, Nugent showed that there are more than 130 counties in Texas which rely on electricity generated, at least in part, by Western coal. Those counties, Nugent said, stretch from the Panhandle to the Rio Grande Valley to Texas' south end include Houston, San Antonio and Austin.

Six of the state's major electrical utilities have plant investments that require out-of-state coal, Nugent said. They are Houston Lighting and Power, Southwestern Electric Power Co., Southwestern Electric Power Company, Central Power and Light, the City of San Antonio and the City of Austin — Lower Colorado River Authority.

Nugent said these utilities will find that the railroads will be able to raise rates more freely and customers will have fewer opportunities to appeal them.

On the question of state regulation of goods shipped by rail wholly within the state, Nugent said that he will seek an opinion from the Texas Attorney General to see if there are "any viable constitutional challenges to the usurpation of state authority."

The way the law is written the Railroad Commission is reduced to the status of "errand runner" for the Interstate Commerce Commission, Nugent said.

"The Railroad Commission was established in the last century to end the kind of rate discrimination and shipper preference that this bill opens the door to, Nugent said. "If we can prevent this from happening, we should do so. If we can't, then let's not waste Texas tax money going through the motions."

Livestock Dealer, 2 Firms Convicted Of Illegal Cattle Shipments

A livestock dealer received a jail sentence; and a trucking firm and cattle company, all of South St. Paul, Minn., received fines after pleading guilty to charges of shipping cattle from Texas and Oklahoma without health tests or health certificates, a U.S. Department of Agriculture official reports.

Dr. Paul Becton, director of the national brucellosis eradication program for USDA's Animal and Plant Health Inspection Service, said the convictions culminate a USDA investigation into a number of alleged illegal cattle movements during 1976, and Oklahoma in the summer of 1976. "Successful prosecution of this case emphasized the importance of a nimal health laws, without which we would be unable to control or eradicate brucellosis and other serious livestock diseases," Becton said. Federal and state governments currently are spending more than $100 million annually in a cooperative state-federal brucellosis eradication program.

Harold Stewart, a livestock dealer, was sentenced to 90 days in jail and two years of probation for illegally moving 37 cows from Durant, Okla., to South St. Paul, Minn., on Aug. 31, 1976. The cows were shipped without certificates showing they negated tests for brucellosis, as is required.

Stewart Livestock Trucking, Inc., was fined $1,000 for a similar violation involving the illegal shipment of 21 cows from Gainesville, Tex., to South St. Paul on Sept. 1, 1976.

O and S Cattle Company, also was fined $1,000 for shipping 23 cows from Bowie, Tex., to South St. Paul on Sept. 2, 1976, without negative brucellosis tests and without the required health certificate.

Sentencing by Judge Donald D. Alsop of the U.S. District Court, Minneapolis, Minn., took place Sept. 2.

You need. We heed.

If you need a mama cow that'll wean a heavy calf, breed back every year for more years than most, then you need BEEFMASTER.

If you need a bull that'll throw an easy calving calf, that'll wean off more pounds per day of age, then you need BEEFMASTER.

TM-AA Sets First Commercial Sale Oct. 26, Abilene

Brownwood — Plans were finalized by the board of directors in a meeting here July 27 for the Texas Maine-Anjou Association's first commercial bull and female sale to be held in the Taylor County Coliseum at the Fair Grounds in Abilene, on Sunday, Oct. 26, beginning at 1 p.m., according to Don Rhone of Coleman, president of TM-AA.

Rhone said only animals which are registered in the American Maine-Anjou Association will be accepted for the sale, but consignments from any part of the country are welcomed. All of the cattle must have health papers, and bulls which are breeding age must have fertility papers.

Already consigned are 60 three-quarter coming-two-year-old Maine-Anjou heifers, mostly black, that are bred to Black Chianina bulls. Halfbloods on up through fullbloods will be accepted for the sale.

"This sale will be a good opportunity for 4-H and FFA youngsters to buy females from which they can produce their own club calves," Rhone said. He added that it will also be an opportunity for commercial cattlemen to buy either bulls or females which they can take home for comparison with their other cattle.

Buddy Slevens and Associates of Albany will manage the sale.

Consignment deadline is Oct. 1, or until sufficient cattle have been consigned to have a good sale. Consignments may be made by contacting Don Rhone at 815/624-4141; Buddy Slevens at 915/782-2852; or Calvin Fryar at Brownwood, 815/640-1584.

TEXAS RED ANGUS NEWS

Red Angus Expansion Well Under Way

Denton — "The anticipated Red Angus expansion is well underway," states Jim Leachman, President of the Red Angus Association. "With the initiation of our new Recordation program in which Percentage Red Angus between 87% through 99% are recorded as Category 1-B animals has lent status and image to high blood content Red Angus which make them a logical and economic as well as a practical and intelligent addition to any commercial beef production program. The Category 1-B Red Angus possess all the physiological advantages of the Angus breed plus the all important factors of mandatory performance information, and red color. Since the new Recordation program was initiated in March of this year interest on the part of large-scale commercial operators has increased and participation is expected to mount dramatically."

Seven month's figures show a very satisfactory increase in 100% registrations with 25% more registrations compared with the same eleven month period in 1978-79. This alone points out the increased demand for registered 100% Red Angus by new breeders as well as progressive commercial producers who have learned the improvement of top performance tested Red Angus bull can impart on a commercial cow herd. The advent of the "Red Baldie" is here to stay. Feeder operators are increasing their acceptance after observing the added gain and efficiency advantages of the mandatory performance testing requirement imposed by the Red Angus Association, added Leachman. "As numbers increase in the Category 1-B herdbook, more and more animals in this division will be seen in the breed."

Red Angus Registrations Show Substantial Growth

Denton — Registrations of Red Angus cattle by the Red Angus Association of America have shown strong increases in the past year, according to Lyle V. Springer, executive director of the Denton, Texas based national organization. Registrations of 100% Red Angus have increased by 25% to a total of 11,000; and recordation of percentage blood Red Angus by 20% to a present total of 14,039. "This has been one of the most and most active years for Red Angus," Springer said. "We expect registrations of both fullblood and percentage Red Angus to continue at a strong pace."

Association sponsored show, sales and tests. Leading Bull Test Stations are showing increased interest in attracting top end Category 1-B bulls into their test and sale programs to satisfy the increased commercial demand for Red Angus bulls, and actually there is little if any genetic difference between 100% and Category 1-B bulls, especially those from purebred but unregistered blood Angus base females. "Commercial producers who have been using, or contemplating using Red Angus bulls in their breeding programs are urged to contact the Denton office for complete information on the revolutionary Red Angus Recordation program... It can add profits to your breeding efforts."

Experts, who should know, report that a single oyster can produce 100,000,000 eggs a season. That's a lot of eggs.

AVOID CHANGING WELL LEATHERS FOR MANY YEARS
Perma-cups are molded urethanes, more wear resistant than nylon. Perma-cups will outlast leathers 10 to 1. Their tapered design allows only 1/8" wearing, instead of 5/8" of a leather. Much less friction for easier pumping extends cylinder life greatly. Perma-cups must be used in a good or new cylinder, as they do not swell. Install Urethane Perma-cups, Urethane Check-balls, and Urethane Pump Rod-guides, and don't pull that well for many years. Thousands are in wells that have not been released in 5 years! All are available in standard cylinder and pipe sizes. Write or call for our catalog. We ship same day order is received. This is our 30th year serving ranchers.
